

Stark County Board of Developmental Disabilities

March 22, 2011

Dear Mr. Rastoka:

On behalf of the Stark County Board of Developmental Disabilities, I thank you for your March 4, 2011, presentation to our Adult Services department. We received an overwhelming positive response to your 10 rules to a happy life, and I wanted to share some of the comments with you:

"Dave is so personable – it was like he was speaking directly to me."

"... entertaining, meaningful for my life, and his words made me want to change my present circumstances ..."

"He was enjoyable to listen to and I will attempt to put the lessons into my own life."

"Believe the entire agency should hear his positive message of having a happy life."

"Funny, he made me laugh at the same time as making me think ... does not get better than that."

"He has a way of speaking that made me feel like I knew him and wanted to listen to what he had to say."

"Great message for us going forward, and putting our work life into its proper perspective."

"Highly energetic and easy to listen to. His message gave me hope for improving my own life."

Amazing. Every. One.

Thanks again, Dave, for making our semi-annual training day special. Your presentation reached our employees and deeply touched them. We want you to know that your speaking made a difference for our agency, and we express our gratitude for the time you gave us.

Sincerely,

William Green
